

The following is a size chart that we have put together to give our shoppers a general idea of how the majority of our styles are sized. Due to the fact that we carry clothing from several different designers, sizing can vary depending on the designer, cut and fabric. We try to provide as much information as possible regarding the size and fit of each product in the product descriptions, so we recommend checking product descriptions when trying to determine which size to order. If you need additional information on a specific item, please feel free to email support@gamedayallure.com.
